TAFT ASSERTS ARMS BAN AID TO AGGRESSOR

Urges Senate To Adopt Bill Repealing Embargo On Munitions

TRUSTS ROOSEVELT

Willing To Accept Pledge Of Determination To Keep U. S. Peace

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Senator Taft, Republican, Ohio, announced today an arms embargo policy as favoring aggressors against peaceful nations and urged the senate to adopt the administration bill repealing the ban on munitions shipments.

He voiced approval of provisions which would prohibit American ships from carrying goods to warring countries, but recommended elimination of a section permitting 90-day credits on arms sales.

"We should prohibit our ships from going to Europe," he said. "That policy is no more cowardly than it is to keep people out of a burning house. It is simply good sense that we prevent American citizens not only from risking their own lives, but from plunging us into a war which may involve millions of other lives."

Taft, whose friends are backing him for the 1940 Republican presidential nomination, is one of a half dozen Republican senators favoring repeal of the arms embargo. He told the senate repeatedly that he believed the United States could remain out of the European war.

"The president of the United States," Taft said, "would make a tremendous mistake if he regarded the passage of this bill as in any way a symbol of popular approval of interference in Europe.

"The popular opposition to this bill, as far as it exists, is based on suspicion of the president's tendency to interfere in the European war. He has publicly pledged his determination to keep America at peace and we can surely accept that pledge."

Taft, son of the pre-World war president, urged that congress remain in session to act promptly on any emergency which may arise.

He declared that nothing would be so destructive to Democratic government in the United States as war and added:

"Those who control the present government believe in a planned economy under government control. A war policy of confiscation, dominated by that philosophy, would create a completely socialized form of life from which we might never return to the liberty and freedom heretofore regarded as characteristic of America."

Taft expressed the belief that repeal of the embargo would not result in any great demand for American munitions on the part of European belligerents. During the two and a half years before the United States entered the World war, he said, such goods constituted only 13 per cent of total American exports to the United Kingdom, France, Italy, Russia and Canada.

"Many of my correspondents apparently think that today we are not shipping anything of importance to Europe," he said, "but that when the embargo is repealed the flood-gates will be opened. Of course, they are greatly mistaken.

"Shipments of all kinds are going to England and France. Not guns, it is true, but the steel and machine tools with which to make guns."

An arms embargo, Taft said, makes war more likely throughout the world.

"It favors warlike nations which build up their armaments in time of peace," he declared, "and it discriminates against those nations which, hoping for peace and relying on treaties, fail to pour vast sums into armament. In short, it favors the aggressor against the peaceful nation."

He took issue with the opponents' contention that it would be unneutral to repeal the embargo after war has begun.

"We are said to be changing the rules of the game after the game is started," he asserted. "In the first place, war is not a game, it is a deadly serious matter.

"In the second place, the imposing of an embargo on American products is strictly a domestic policy. We have the right to do it or not to do it, as we see fit.

"It cannot be said that any nation went to war relying on laws which might be changed by congress. Certainly Hitler did not do so. We did not mislead him. When he went to war, a bill repealing the arms embargo was pending in congress, recommended by the president of the United States."

MORRISON'S WIFE LOSES STATE JOB

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. James J. Morrison, wife of an attorney representing jurors who "revolted" against District Attorney Charles Byrne, was notified yesterday of her dismissal from a state job.

Mrs. Morrison is senior interviewer in charge of colored domestic placements with the state employment service. She said a letter from B. W. Cason, state labor commissioner, notifying her of her dismissal, effective October 22, gave no reason.

Hitler Hopes United States Will Act To Halt War

SAFE AT HOME

Captain E. A. Chelton of Jacksonville, Fla., master of the American liner Iroquois, smiled happily upon docking his ship in New York in the wake of a tip from the German naval chief that she would be sunk in the Atlantic with 584 Americans fleeing from the European war.

SENSATIONAL INDICTMENTS DUE SATURDAY

Harvey Fields Says Two Or More 'Scandal' Bills To Be Returned

No scandal indictments will be returned by the federal grand jury today, it was announced shortly before noon this morning by United States District Attorney Harvey G. Fields. Mr. Fields added that the jury will report two or more such indictments shortly after 11 o'clock tomorrow morning before Judge Gaston Porterie in federal court.

Earlier in the week Mr. Fields said the grand jury would report indictments in other than routine cases Friday morning but he said today that the jury would be held over until Saturday for that purpose. Two "routine" indictments were reported at noon today.

Pursuant to the charge by Judge Ben Dawkins when court convened here ten days ago, no announcement was made as to the nature of the cases being investigated or the names of witnesses appearing for questioning by the grand jury. Several state officials were questioned this morning but their identity was not announced.

Mr. Fields indicated that the jury has probed alleged irregularities on WPA and PWA projects, with witnesses from throughout the Fifth district testifying. It was understood that the jury is continuing its probe of that matter.

Three indictments were returned by the grand jury today, one involving violation of the national banking act and two the Dyer act, which prohibits interstate transportation of a stolen automobile. Names of those indicted were withheld pending their arrest.

Testimony was still being heard in the trial of I. W. Jaffe, former manager of the bankrupt Ruth Shops, Inc., of Monroe.

CABINET CRISIS IN JAPAN AVERTED

TOKYO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A cabinet crisis appeared averted today when a spokesman for 150 foreign office officials who had tendered their resignations announced the government had agreed to respect their wishes in a "compromise plan" on the creation of a new trade ministry. The resignations were withdrawn.

Foreign office employes in Japan, the United States, South America, France and China had expressed opposition to Premier General Nobuyuke Abe's proposal to place the foreign ministry's trade bureau under the new ministry.

Many of the foreign office officials immediately offered their resignations on the grounds such a plan would strip the foreign office of its essential functions.

Their spokesman said Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, foreign minister, had assured them their wishes would be taken care of in the new compromise the premier is preparing.

The strikers' representative said the compromise provided for establishment of a trade ministry but with the foreign office retaining control of foreign trade matters now under its commercial bureau, including the appointment of commercial counselors abroad.

GERMANS FEAR BLOOD BATH IN EUROPE LOOMS

Mediation By America Looked Upon By Hitler As Last Hope

FLAY CHAMBERLAIN

Premier's Talk Called 'Unheard Of Insult To Germany'

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Authorized Nazis today said Germans was through with Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Daladier but still was waiting for a neutral response to Adolf Hitler's reichstag speech of last Friday.

Any such action by neutral nations—among whom they said they regarded the United States as the only one powerful enough to do something effective—however must come from them and not as a result of any diplomatic action or request by Germany, they reported.

(In Washington, the lack of a formal request for mediation was seen as one of the obstacles to any possible effort by the United States government to bring peace.)

By Associated Press

Germans looked anew to the United States today for mediation of the European war now in its 41st day.

A week ago Hitler proposed a peace on his terms, an offer which was followed by Nazi suggestions that Washington use its good offices to end the war. Washington was cool.

The new effort for American intervention followed upon Prime Minister Chamberlain's rejection of a peace on conditions stipulated by the fuehrer.

Hitler was represented by Dr. Otto Dietrich, his press chief, as holding that mediation by the United States was the last hope for averting "the most gruesome blood bath in history."

It was indicated in Berlin that there might still be a lull on the western front if there was any sign of American action, otherwise there would be a fight to the finish.

At almost the same time an official German press release attacked Chamberlain's speech as "an unheard of insult to Germany" and asserted

RED CROSS TO USE $1,000,000

This Sum Appropriated For Relief Needs In European War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Chairman Norman H. Davis announced today that the American Red Cross had appropriated $1,000,000 for immediate relief needs in the European war.

"If the need develops, we will have to make a regular war fund drive," Davis said.

"The Red Cross is ready to do everything practicable that the American people want it to do."

More than 3,700 chapters have been notified they may accept relief contributions, which may be designated for expenditure in any particular country.

Since the war started, gifts of about $200,000 have been received, the largest, $150,000 from the Polish Alliance for the relief of Poland, Davis said.

Detailing war relief moves already made, Davis said requests for medicines, clothing, blankets and hospital and other supplies have come from the Polish, French, British, and German Red Cross.

Medicines and bandages were delivered in Poland at the first of the German invasion, but since then difficulties of procedure have developed which an American Red Cross delegation of three at Geneva is trying

CALIFORNIA AGAIN GETS HEAT WAVE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A mid-October heat wave enveloped the California coast for the third successive day today, but weather observers said it was unlikely yesterday's Los Angeles maximum of 96 degrees would be equalled.

The forecast was for slightly cooler weather with a light wind.

The Los Angeles maximum was far below the city's October record of 102 degrees.

Southward, at San Diego, a 94-degree recording was the warmest Columbus day on record.

San Francisco had a maximum of 84.

The heat was accompanied by high tides and pounding ground swells which inundated streets in Belmont shores and halted travel on the Long Beach-Seal Beach electric railway.

'IT WAS JUST LIKE THIS, PAL'

Charles Kane (left), 11 months old, and John Turner (right), seven months, passengers aboard the "threatened" American liner Iroquois, appeared to be in earnest conversation about the voyage, their spinach or something of the sort when the vessel docked safely in New York. These youngest passengers weren't at all concerned over a German report that the Iroquois was marked for sinking en route from Europe with Americans fleeing from the war.

MOTORS ACTS OF MONOPOLY ARE RELATED

Witness Tells Of Attempts To Force Financing Patronage

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A man who had owned two Chevrolet automobile agencies told a federal jury here General Motors corporation cancelled both his dealer's contracts because he would not finance his instalment sales through the General Motors acceptance corporation.

The two firms, two other G. M. credit subsidiaries and 17 officials are being tried on charges they conspired toward a car financing monopoly among General Motors dealers in violation of the anti-trust law.

Fred Emich, who sold Chevrolets in Chicago and suburban Oak Park, testified yesterday both franchises were taken from him in 1936.

He went to Detroit and asked William S. Knudsen, general Motors president, for an explanation, and Knudsen chided:

"You're a bad boy. The most important thing you've been cancelled for is because you have not given at least 50 per cent of your business to G. M. A. C."

He said that despite Knudsen's assurances to the contrary he lost $20,000 on the cancellation.

Emich testified that in the course of his quarrel with General Motors the corporation would ship him automobiles and accessories he had not ordered.

A Chevrolet employe once walked into his Chicago salesroom, he said, and destroyed six radiator caps because they were not G. M. products. He said he complained to Zone Manager Roy W. Hill and Hill told him, "We're going to teach you to come along."

YOUNG FARMER DIES OF EXTREME FRIGHT

FULTON, Mo., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Raymond Soukoup, 26-year-old farmer, went into his field to cut corn stalks at night. Excessive heat had made day-time labor too strenuous.

He reached the end of his field, which borders a cemetery. Then, Soukoup related:

Several white-garbed figures popped up. Two, moaning weirdly, leaped toward him.

Soukoup was too frightened to run. His parents discovered him, still hysterical, hours later.

That was September 22. Soukoup died yesterday at a state hospital.

A physician who treated the young farmer said death was due to maniacal exhaustion resulting from an unusually severe mental disturbance.

Frank Soukoup, the father, said Raymond had been in good health until his fright. A week later Raymond was adjudged insane and committed to the hospital.

No investigation of the death was planned on the basis of information available to the county prosecutor today. It was believed several boys perpetrated a prank but their identity was unknown to officials.

TUGWELL WILL AID OPPONENT OF EARL LONG

Running For Treasurer, Instead Of Governor, To Solidify Forces

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 13.—(AP)—It was indicated today that State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell, who withdraw yesterday as a gubernatorial candidate, would not throw his support to any particular candidate for governor in the first primary, but would devote his efforts to fighting the candidacy of Governor Earl K. Long, while campaigning for reelection to his present office.

Tugwell's position is expected to be somewhat similar to that of former District Attorney Eugene Stanley of New Orleans, candidate for attorney general with the support of both Senator James A. Noe and Sam H. Jones, candidates for governor. Tugwell, who is in north Louisiana today, told friends that if Governor Long is in a second primary he will support his opponent.

Tugwell, former chairman of the highway commission under appointment of Huey P. Long while governor, was on the state administration ticket for treasurer four years ago. He broke with the present governor a year and a half ago.

He said in a statement:

"In order to solidify, as far as possible, the forces and factions opposed to the candidacy of the Honorable Earl K. Long for the governorship of Louisiana, I have definitely abandoned the idea of qualifying as a candidate for governor.

"However, to continue my fight I have qualified with the chairman of the Democratic state central committee as a candidate for the office of state treasurer. For this office, I will appreciate the continued support of my many friends throughout the state."

Tugwell and Long clashed in the summer of 1938 when they suported opposing candidates in an election in Winnfield, where both lived. Long's candidate won.

C. I. O. PREPARES TO NAME OFFICERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The C. I. O. second annual convention prepared today to elect officers and perhaps clear its calendar and adjourn one day ahead of schedule, after condemning the national labor relations board's administration of the Wagner act.

Delegates indicated off the record that John L. Lewis, who has headed the C. I. O. since it broke with the A. F. L. four years ago, would be returned to the president's office.

Six vice-presidents, instead of two as formerly, will be chosen as well as the organization's first paid secretary. No nominations for any of the positions have yet been made.

Finland Steps Up War Preparations

RAILROADS IN U. S. TO SPEND 80 MILLIONS

Pour That Amount Into Properties To Keep Trade Moving

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—America's railroads, given the "highball" by an upsurge in business, have pulled the spending throttle and are pouring more than $80,000,000 into their property to keep the nation's trade and travel moving.

How much this will mean in jobs is incalculable, railroad men said. Contracts are scattered over a wide range of industries, much of the repair work can be done by crews maintained by individual lines, and the steel mills, sources of new rail, are rolling at capacity.

Nor is this multi-million-dollar spurt caused by lagging operations and depreciation during slump times. Streamlined fleets of trains have been built up during depression years and the roads have spent millions to keep their systems operating properly when income was low.

Railway Age, the carriers' trade magazine, reported $80,000,000 worth of contracts for supplies and work were placed during September. New building and modernization programs, many of which won't be completed until next year, more than equal that figure.

The industry-wide program of preparedness to handle any size load of new business was begun last month in Washington when rail leaders announced immediate action to put their cars and locomotives in shape.

Preparedness was described by J. L. Beven, president of the Illinois Central system, in a speech to businessmen as "the best insurance against the possibility of government ownership" of the carriers.

The Pennsylvania railroad is spending about $20,000,000 over its regularly scheduled expenditures. This will pay for 2,500 new freight cars, 20 new electric locomotives, three new streamlined passenger cars, streamlined modernization of 100 passenger cars, repairs to 17,500 hopper gondola and boxcars and 80,000 tons of new rail.

Five thousand additional men have been put on for the Pennsylvania repair work.

The Santa Fe system, operating through the southwest to the Pacific coast, has allotted $21,000,000 this year for 91,000 tons of rail, 2,800 new freight cars and for reconstruction and repairs.

Next month the Rock Island lines will place into service two new seven-car "rocket" trains between Chicago and Colorado, costing a total of $1,200,000. The lines have received court authorization to spend $4,375,000 more on 20 Diesel switch engines 1,000

KASTEL SURRENDERS ON FRAUD CHARGE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Philip Kastel of Stamford, Conn., one of six defendants indicted by the federal government here in an alleged $500,000 income tax evasion case, surrendered today to United States Commissioner R. H. Carter, Jr., and was released under $50,000 bond.

Kastel appeared with his counsel, Hugh M. Wilkinson, New Orleans attorney, and posted bond under an agreement which was made yesterday with the commissioner.

Dudley Geigerman, another of the defendants indicted ten days ago on income tax evasion charges in connection with a reputed million dollar slot machine "racket" operating in New Orleans in 1937, surrendered yesterday to the United States marshal and was held in the federal jail awaiting the posting of $25,000 bond.

The others indicted are: Frank Costello, New York, freed there under $50,000 bond; James Brocato, alias Jimmie Moran, at liberty here under $25,000 bond; and Harold Geigerman and Jacob Altman, in federal jail awaiting posting of $25,000 bonds.

The government claimed that almost $3,000,000 was collected in two years by the syndicate through slot machine operations here and that income taxes were evaded by the use of alleged "dummy" companies.

CREW RESCUED

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The American liner President Harding radioed today that she had rescued the crew of 36 of the British freighter Heronspool while proceeding to aid the attacked French tanker W. Emile Miquet. The Heronspool was sunk off the Irish coast. The Harding said it found the tanker in flames. The crew apparently had drowned.

Representations By U. S. And Other Countries Improve Stand

HELSINKI, Oct. 13.—(AP)—President Kyoesti Kallio issued a decree today ordering all Finnish civilians to hold themselves in readiness to aid the government in non-military pursuits if required by the present emergency.

By Lynn Heinzerling

HELSINKI, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Finland stepped up her preparations today to fight, if necessary, for her independence as her foreign minister declared the nation would resist dictation.

A government spokesman, however, said Finland was "still optimistic" of acceptable terms from Soviet Russia as the second day of Finnish-Russian talks in Moscow began.

Foreign Minister Eljas Erkko made his statement in a radio broadcast after Finland had learned of United States representations to the Soviet government on her behalf.

The brief speech was diverted from the United States at the last moment after the German radio had refused to relay it allegedly on the ground that it was "political."

It was broadcast, however, to Finland's Scandinavian neighbors.

Erkko reaffirmed to them Finland's will to peace but, he said, "she cannot submit or comply with the dictates of an outside factor which would result in her international and political activity being dependent on something other than her own free will."

Without mentioning Russia, he proclaimed Finland's "full right * * * to expect other nations to respect her

CONSOLIDATED TICKET AGAINST LONG IS URGED

Attempt Made To Get Three Gubernatorial Candidates Lined Up

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The States said today an effort was being made to consolidate three gubernatorial anti-administration candidates into a single ticket with the support of the New Orleans Old Regulars whose backing Long sought in conferences here the past two days.

The States added:

"Old line and informed politicians, however, hold to the belief that the Old Regular support for Governor Earl K. Long will be forthcoming in spite of their personal opposition.

"With Mayor Robert S. Maestri wielding the whip of patronage over the backs of the Old Regular leaders and their followers it is accepted that they do his bidding whether they like it or not."

After the conferences Long was asked whether the Old Regulars would come out for him and replied:

"I don't know about the city but in the country I'm going to come out ahead of all the other candidates combined in the election."

The paper said that one of the most surprising visitors at the conferences was Thomas J. Hill, former member of the dock board and member of the civil service commission in the city.

Though Long and Hill have been recognized as political enemies both have been administration supporters in recent years.

GALLOGLY HEARING SET FOR MONDAY

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Attorneys for Richard Gallogly, escaped Georgia life-termer, prepared today to present his case before an extradition hearing at Austin next week.

The hearing will be held by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel Monday, said Gallogly's counsel, State Senator Jesse H. Martin of Fort Worth and Harold Young of Dallas.

Gallogly is held in jail here, having given himself up to Dallas authorities. The attorneys said they would obtain his release from jail on a writ of habeas corpus tomorrow so he can personally plead his case.

The 28-year-old wife of the convict and his socially prominent mother, Mrs. Worth Yankey, also will attend the extradition hearing, attorneys said.

Basis of Gallogly's plea for mercy will be the claim that his health is such that his return to prison would result in death, Young said. He added that Gallogly's contention that he is a victim of persecution also would be detailed.

Hearings on fugitive complaints filed against Mr. and Mrs. Gallogly will be postponed until after the extradition hearing. They originally had been set for tomorrow.

WILL ASSUME DIRECTION OF INVESTIGATION

Action Taken After Orleans Grand Jury Protests Against Attorney

LETTER MADE PUBLIC

Asserts Step Ordered By Attorney General David M. Ellison

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Attorney General David M. Ellison said today, in reply to the Citizens Voluntary committee of Louisiana threatening his impeachment, that his duty was to his conscience and his judgment could not be shaped "by either the hope of favor or the force of threats."

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—James O'Connor, first assistant attorney general of Louisiana, today superceded District Attorney Charles A. Byrne, who was charged with lack of cooperation by the Orleans parish grand jury in its investigation of dual office-holding and payroll "deadheads."

O'Connor today held a brief conference behind closed doors with Byrne and then made public a letter to the district attorney in which he stated that he was superceding Byrne under instructions of Attorney General David M. Ellison and on constitutional authority.

The letter to Byrne stated:

"In accordance with the instructions of the Honorable David M. Ellison, attorney general of the state of Louisiana, and the power vested in me by the constitution and laws of the state, I hereby supercede you as district attorney for the parish of Orleans until you are further informed and directed by the attorney general or by me."

In taking over the district attorney's office, O'Connor said he would assume the entire duties of Byrne, complete charge of the investigation into alleged corruption and also prosecution of criminal actions in city cases.

Asked whether he would use the district attorney's staff which the grand jury asked replaced along with Byrne, O'Connor said he "undoubtedly would."

Byrne, who is to face a hearing Monday before three judges on charges of lack of cooperation brought by the grand jury, said a few minutes after the announcement that O'Connor had made no immediate plans to call the grand jury into session.

Previous reports stated that the grand jury would not meet until the situation was cleared under which two of its members were sentenced for contempt and dismissed by Judge George P. Platt for attempting to read a petition signed by seven grand jurymen censuring the district attorney.

Byrne said he would continue to occupy his office.

In court circles it was stated that the action of the attorney general in taking charge would have no bearing on the open hearing for Byrne which was started last Wednesday and continued until Monday.

The hearing was requested both by Bryne, to determine the truth or falsity of the charges of lack of cooperation and obstruction, and by the Citizens Voluntary committee which cited the grand jury charges.

The two requests were consolidated and the charges were to be heard before a three-judge court comprised of Judge George P. Platt, Judge Frank T. Echezabal and Judge William J. O'Hara.

In the meantime Judge Platt was expected to file with the supreme court today his answer to a writ of mandamus application filed by two discharged grand jurors, seeking their reinstatement.

The jurors, Edgar H. Powell and Sidney DeArmas, claimed in the suit that Judge Platt exceeded his authority and illegally dismissed them after an attempt was made in open court to read a petition signed by seven members of the jury censoring Byrne and asking that he be replaced as legal advisor to the grand jury.

Judge Platt held the two jurors in contempt of court for not first submitting their petition to him in chambers.

The grand jury controversy was the subject of sharp comment last night in a radio address by Sam Jones of Lake Charles, candidate for governor in opposition to the state machine.

Jones termed the American grand jury "democracy's greatest safeguard" and commended the seven petition-signing jurors "who would not be bullied, bluffed or bought" and the "courage of those two of those seven who risked prison bars for what they thought was right, whether some pol-

Father and daughter exchanged a long look, a look which made Eleanor feel momentarily isolated.

"What else do you do besides housekeep?"

An expression of deep gravity settled upon the other's face.

The next meeting of the club will be held October 26 at the home of Mrs. L. V. Tarver. The lesson will feature "Hebrew Poetry" with Mrs. J. R. White leader.

From Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, founder of the Women's Conference on the Cause and Cure of War, comes a hopeful point of view.

"In spite of present conditions," Mrs. Catt believes "we are rapidly moving toward world peace. Hitler has made war so horrible, so dishonorable, that he has sickened everyone, and converted millions to pacificism."

Mrs. Catt believes that the participation of women in government and public affairs and the interest they are taking in plans to keep America out of war are the country's greatest security.

Friends regret exceedingly the unfortunate automobile accident that has rendered Mrs. J. L. Keenan a semi-invalid for the time being at least.

Mrs. Keenan and her sister, Mrs. H. Van Smith, of Oklahoma, returning from a vacation with relatives in Minnesota, were joined by Mr. Keenan in Chicago. The accident occurred near Memphis and resulted in Mrs. Keenan's injury, a fractured kneecap. The injury, although not of a serious nature, will necessitate her remaining in a wheel chair for several weeks.

TECH PLANNING ON OPEN HOUSE

Reception Will Be Held By Faculty On Sunday October 29

RUSTON, La., Oct. 13.—(Special)—Tentative plans have been made for an open house reception at Louisiana Tech on Sunday afternoon, October 29, from 3:30 to 6 p.m., by a faculty committee headed by Miss Caroline Cochran, dean of women.

The occasion will give the public an opportunity to visit three recently completed buildings, namely, Robinson hall, the boys' dormitory, Aswell hall, the girls' dormitory, and the new dining hall, which to date has not been given a name. At the same time, according to present plans, the visitors may inspect other campus buildings which have been refurnished and otherwise improved, including the president's home, the home management house and Richardson hall, the women's old dormitory.

It has been tentatively arranged for itineraries to be conducted from one building to another. Opening at the boys' new dormitory, the tour would include in succession visits to the president's house, the home management house, the girls' new dormitory, the girls' old dormitory and the dining hall.

Because of the itinerary, the visitors will be asked to park their cars near the boys' new dormitory, the starting point of the tour, it was announced. Boy scouts will probably be on hand to direct the parking and the Tech Blue Jackets, girls' organization, will assist in directing the itineraries.

Faculty members and students will serve as hosts in their respective buildings. The reception is to be as informal as possible, it was emphasized, and the general public is urged to attend.

D. Y. SMITH TO RUN FOR SENATE

Ouachita Parish Police Juror Formally Announces For Office

D. Y. Smith, of Sterlington, announced today that he would seek the nomination for state senator from the 29th senatorial district in the January primary.

Mr. Smith is police juror from Ward 1. The 29th district is comprised of Ouachita and Jackson parishes.

Mr. Smith's formal announcement follows:

"I desire to take this opportunity of announcing myself as a candidate for the office of state senator from the Twenty-ninth senatorial district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held in January next.

"A native of Ouachita parish, my early education was gained in its public schools; I attended the Louisiana State university, from which I was graduated in 1914; and thereafter I have devoted myself to farming and to the conduct of a small general merchandise store. I have represented my ward on the police jury of Ouachita parish for the past two terms, and I am convinced that my practical experience qualifies me to represent the interests of this district in the state senate.

"In offering myself as a candidate I have deliberately avoided and shall continue to avoid any alignment with any political group or faction. Every one must realize the necessity for the complete independence of the legislative branch from the executive branch of our government and with this, my opening announcement, I pledge the people of this district that I am and shall remain completely independent of any one of the various candidates for governor and of the factions which may be supporting those candidates. Your representative in the senate should be in a position to cooperate in every way, consistent with the best interests of his district with the governor and other officials of the state, and by maintaining a complete independence from any campaign for that office, I shall be able to represent this district, in cooperation with the governor, whoever he may be, but at the same time preserve my own freedom of action.

"On this basis I respectfully solicit the support of every individual citizen and voter regardless of his political views, assuring each of you that the interests of the district will receive the best representation of which I am capable, with complete freedom from any political entanglements and obligations."

POSTMASTERS' APPETITES BIG

Five Dining Rooms Required At Convention In Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The nation's postmasters left Washington today with undisputed claim to the capital's "big appetite" title tucked safely beneath their belts.

As the political center of the country, Washington has seen and heard some tremendous eaters, but collectively they were pikers when it came to the delegates who attended the convention of the National Association of Postmasters.

Amid the clatter of 50,000 pieces of china, 3,548 diners enjoyed a banquet at the Mayflower hotel last night. It was the largest ever served in a hotel here.

Besides the 50,000 pieces of china, they used, among other things:

21,000 pieces of silver.
6,000 Maryland biscuits.
25 gallons of olives.
1,800 breasts of capons.
75 bushels of potatoes.
150 dozen grapefruit.

The hotel saw early in the day that it could not meet the chair situation, so it called on eight other hostelries to help furnish something for the postmasters to sit on.

After the dinner Postmaster General James A. Farley spoke.

Five dining rooms were required, and the seating was worked out roughly on this basis:

Those who had never seen and heard the postmaster general were given places in the main dining room.

Those who had seen him only once, were seated in an adjoining room, where they could see him but could hear him only through an amplifier.

Those who had seen and heard him often dined elsewhere in the hotel.

Busier and more fatigued than any postmaster was Fred Wiesinger, the maitre d'hotel.

"Our postmasters," he said, "not only carry the mail, but can eat a whale."

After A Man's Heart

YESTERDAY: Buff's parents come to Boulder to find out what she is up to. Buff confesses to her mother that she is "head over heels about Tim."

Chapter 14

A Father's Advice

NEITHER woman was surprised to have Lance arrive early with Tim, bewildered and a little angry [illegible]

Lance triumphantly exhibited a notebook crammed with sketches [illegible] Tim had Buff [illegible]

To her amazement he tossed his notebook of sketches onto the table. "No earthly use to me, of course; but priceless as a means of putting Tim in touch with his fellow men after last summer's debacle. He's out now of his shell! [illegible] It's up to you to keep him there, my little one."

Buff, grasping the significance of these few days—wasted as far as Lance's own work was concerned, laid her cheek against her father's hand.

He got burned [illegible] last year and doesn't realize that when winter sets in a fire is going to afford a grateful warmth [illegible] in moderation. Stick around, Buff. Cold weather comes early up here."

"That's honestly your advice, Lance?"

Father and daughter exchanged a long look, a look which made Eleanor feel momentarily isolated.

She reminded herself that Buff had always been more Lance's child than hers; touched with his genius, endowed with his ability to get his own way, gifted with his happy-go-lucky charm.

"My advice—honestly. At least for a few months. Between us, Weekes and I have hauled him out of his shell—for the time being at least."

[illegible]

He [illegible] presented [illegible] Van doubled [illegible] feet [illegible]

"[illegible]," she began. "Nice child, our [illegible] in spite of having brains. Personally I prefer women to be as nearly devoid of gray matter as is compatible with making a man comfortable. But Buff——"

"Are you speaking of Miss Carroll?" inquired Tim coldly.

Van stated "None other; but why the formality? Buff is much easier to say, believe me! Lucky break for me, having her move into this apartment. I'm perpetually out of groceries — I'm my own housekeeper, you see — and Buff and dear old Webby come to my rescue."

"What else do you do besides housekeep?"

An expression of deep gravity settled upon the other's face.

Continued tomorrow.

The Monroe Poetry society met Thursday afternoon for a discussion of "Rhythm in Poetry." Mrs H J Fernandez, leader for the afternoon, was assisted by Mrs L V Tarver, Mrs George Wesley Smith, Mrs Warren Gregory and Mrs L F Grigsby. TECH PLANNING ON OPEN HOUSE

Reception Will Be Held By Faculty On Sunday October 29

RUSTON, La., Oct. 13.—(Special)—Tentative plans have been made for an open house reception at Louisiana Tech on Sunday afternoon, October 29, from 3:30 to 6 p.m., by a faculty committee headed by Miss Caroline Cochran, dean of women.

The occasion will give the public an opportunity to visit three recently completed buildings, namely, Robinson hall, the boys' dormitory, Aswell hall, the girls' dormitory, and the new dining hall, which to date has not been given a name. At the same time, according to present plans, the visitors may inspect other campus buildings which have been refurnished and otherwise improved, including the president's home, the home management house and Richardson hall, the women's old dormitory.

It has been tentatively arranged for itineraries to be conducted from one building to another. Opening at the boys' new dormitory, the tour would include in succession visits to the president's house, the home management house, the girls' new dormitory, the girls' old dormitory and the dining hall.

Because of the itinerary, the visitors will be asked to park their cars near the boys' new dormitory, the sterting point of the tour, it was announced. Boy scouts will probably be on hand to direct the parking and the Tech Blue Jackets, girls' organization, will assist in directing the itineraries.

Faculty members and students will serve as hosts in their respective buildings. The reception is to be as informal as possible, it was emphasized, and the general public is urged to attend.

D. Y. SMITH TO RUN FOR SENATE

Ouachita Parish Police Juror Formally Announces For Office

D. Y. Smith, of Sterlington, announced today that he would seek the nomination for state senator from the 29th senatorial district in the January primary.

Mr. Smith is police juror from Ward 1. The 29th district is comprised of Ouachita and Jackson parishes.

Mr. Smith's formal announcement follows:

"I desire to take this opportunity of announcing myself as a candidate for the office of state senator from the Twenty-ninth senatorial district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held in January next.

"A native of Ouachita parish, my early education was gained in its public schools; I attended the Louisiana State university, from which I was graduated in 1914; and thereafter I have devoted myself to farming and to the conduct of a small general merchandise store. I have represented my ward on the police jury of Ouachita parish for the past two terms, and I am convinced that my practical experience qualifies me to represent the interests of this district in the state senate.

"In offering myself as a candidate I have deliberately avoided and shall continue to avoid any alignment with any political group or faction. Every one must realize the necessity for the complete independence of the legislative branch from the executive branch of our government and with this, my opening announcement, I pledge the people of this district that I am and shall remain completely independent of any one of the various candidates for governor and of the factions which may be supporting those candidates. Your representative in the senate should be in a position to cooperate in every way, consistent with the best interests of his district with the governor and other officials of the state, and by maintaining a complete independence from any campaign for that office, I shall be able to represent this district, in cooperation with the governor, whoever he may be, but at the same time preserve my own freedom of action.

"On this basis I respectfully solicit the support of every individual citizen and voter regardless of his political views, assuring each of you that the interests of the district will receive the best representation of which I am capable, with complete freedom from any political entanglements and obligations."

POSTMASTERS' APPETITES BIG

Five Dining Rooms Required At Convention In Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The nation's postmasters left Washington today with undisputed claim to the capital's "big appetite" title tucked safely beneath their belts.

As the political center of the country, Washington has seen and heard some tremendous eaters, but collectively they were pikers when it came to the delegates who attended the convention of the National Association of Postmasters.

Amid the clatter of 50,000 pieces of china, 3,548 diners enjoyed a banquet at the Mayflower hotel last night. It was the largest ever served in a hotel here.

Besides the 50,000 pieces of china, they used, among other things:

21,000 pieces of silver.
6,000 Maryland biscuits.
25 gallons of olives.
1,800 breasts of capons.
75 bushels of potatoes.
150 dozen grapefruit.

The hotel saw early in the day that it could not meet the chair situation, so it called on eight other hostelries to help furnish something for the postmasters to sit on.

After the dinner Postmaster General James A. Farley spoke.

Five dining rooms were required, and the seating was worked out roughly on this basis:

Those who had never seen and heard the postmaster general were given places in the main dining room.

Those who had seen him only once, were seated in an adjoining room, where they could see him but could hear him only through an amplifier.

Those who had seen and heard him often dined elsewhere in the hotel.

Busier and more fatigued than any postmaster was Fred Wiesinger, the maitre d'hotel.

"Our postmasters," he said, "not only carry the mail, but can eat a whale."

Back To The Wars

The words of an old war song come to mind as one reads the announcement that fifteen pilots who fought in the royal air force in the first World war have enlisted to fight again under the French flag. "How're you going to keep them down on the farm?" is a fair enough question in a case like this.

America is trying to keep as far from the arena of war as possible. Neutrality is now the chief aim of our government and people. But individuals still have freedom of action in this country. Six of the fifteen veterans who flew for the allies are American citizens. One of them abandoned his job in Cincinnati, and paid his own way to Canada in order to enlist again. All of these men are over forty. They remember clearly the experiences of the first World war. They are old enough to have learned common sense, to have become cautious, to have espoused the cause of neutrality. However, they refuse to be kept safely down on the American farm or anywhere else. They will, if the French medical board in Canada passes them, form the nucleus of a new LaFayette Escadrille.

Foreign volunteers are found in every war. China has had them. Spain found them rallying beneath her banners. They are the adventurers of the world. In many instances they are young men eager to see what is going on somewhere else, young men who haven't yet had an opportunity to weigh idealistic dreams against hard reality.

But these veterans returning to the wars are quite different. Perhaps they also have their dreams of recapturing something of lost youth and high spirits which made life worth living even on the battle line twenty years ago.

One of every nine persons employed in the United States is on a government payroll. The other eight are trying to get on.

NOT ALL BOYS LIKE DOGS

[illegible]

Junior [illegible] decided. "No, I won't have him [illegible]. Why do I have to take care of him [illegible]. I didn't ask him. I didn't ask the birthday [illegible] for him, either."

Junior refused to feed the dog, play with him, even pet him. Mother was greatly disappointed and wondered whether there was anything wrong with Junior that could make him dislike a lovely dog like Teddy.

Junior did not feel the need of a doggy friend. He did not understand him. It was mother who loved and wanted the dog, and she found it impossible to transfer that feeling to her little boy. Maybe he was too young for that understanding?

Our experience with children and dogs is that there is no understanding between them until the child has grown to a stage of development that makes responsibility for a dog friend easy and welcome. There must be the emotion of affectionate regard, of course, but unless it is accompanied by a feeling of personal responsibility, a welcome responsibility, there is no sense in trying to force things. The dog is entitled to affection and care and a master who understands that and longs to bestow his affection and care upon him. Until such conditions exist it is better not to make a child a present of a dog.

The family dog is another matter. He is usually settled before the children are born. He is there to welcome them as they come. They grow up under his care. Thy accept him as naturally as they accept the people about them. They may be a bit rough with him now and then, but old Towser doesn't mind. He undersands, and somebody is usually on hand to relieve him.

Dogs are fine companions for boys and girls. A child cannot live with a good dog and not be the better, in every way, for the association. But that association must be set with care, both for the child and for the dog. Two personalities are concerned and each, especially the helpless dog, should be respected, and protected.

We Want To Be Respected As A Neutral

[illegible]

[illegible] It would make [illegible] to pay for half a dozen British merchant ships sunk by German submarines inside our territorial waters.

Again, it is likely that both sides would respect our greatly enlarged strip of territorial water after some preliminary grumbling, simply because our navy could fairly well enforce it.

But even more questions arise. Britain is arming her merchant vessels. Germany has declared that they must be treated just like warships because it is possible to battle a tug merchant ship with a submarine. If we set out to be strictly neutral, we may have to agree with Germany that armed merchantmen are warships, so far as privileges in territorial waters are concerned. Then we would be obliged to keep armed British merchant ships out of our territorial waters.

We've Got To Make Up Our Minds

Incidentally, that latter is a question which is coming up to hit us in the face already. A ship of war cannot remain in United States harbors or territorial waters more than 24 hours under present custom and law. Moreover, it cannot take on a cargo of supplies. It may get only fuel and supplies enough to get back to its nearest home port.

This country let that question dangle undecided until 1916 in the last World war. Now three of the foremost authorities on international law say that an armed merchant vessel is a ship of war and loses many of its privileges as a merchant vessel, including that of the right to warning before being sunk.

Those three are Henry M. Borchard of Yale, Charles C. Hyde of Columbia and John Bassett Moore, former undersecretary of state.

Borchard and Hyde have recommended flatly that the United States close its harbors to armed merchant vessels. Undoubtedly diplomatic exchanges are flying thick and fast at this very moment between Washington on one end and London and Berlin on the other as to what our duties and obligations are.

JAFFE CASE TRIED IN FEDERAL COURT

The trial of I. W. Jaffe, former manager of the bankrupt Ruth Shop, Inc., of Monroe and the Maison Rouge business establishment of Baton Rouge, got under way in United States district court here yesterday before Judge Gaston Porterie.

Jaffe is charged by the government with trying to conceal assets of the bankrupt firms.

Government testimony was being admitted when court adjourned at 5 p.m. and the case was resumed in a night session at 7 p.m.

The Ruth Shop, Inc., and the Maison Rouge, a branch store of the local establishment in Baton Rouge, were declared in bankruptcy by a decree of court in June, 1938, it was stated.

The government contends that Jaffe, with alleged intent to defeat the operations of the national bankruptcy act, "did fraudulently conceal and transfer from the duly appointed and qualified receiver . . . assets to the amount of $18,654.32."

Jaffe allegedly attempted to conceal cash assets to the amount of $1,615.57, accounts recoverable amounting to $4,503.75, merchandise valued at $2,000, furniture and fixtures valued at $6,276 and lease improvements to the amount of $1,297.

William Saroyan, the volatile Armenian, is the author of a new play labeled "Time of Your Life." Ordinarily the mention of a new play would [illegible] news. But a Saroyan play is out of the ordinary. Mr. Saroyan, young dramatist, is the [illegible] San Franciscan who made his literary debut by swinging as "The Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze."

He sincerely believes that he is the world's best playwright today. But don't brief: A couple of critics almost are inclined to agree with him. He professes little knowledge of the mechanics of a show. Yet the last time he had a play produced on Broadway he rushed from the coast 100 pages of written instructions to the producer, director and actors, telling them explicitly how to behave themselves.

For "Time of Your Life," he has well-nigh equalled his volume of advice.

He is an ebullient and demanding soul. When he attended rehearsals of his show last season, pacing the wings and smoking furiously, the fireman ordered him to desist. "Stop smoking my eye!" protested Saroyan, "I'll write in a scene in which everybody smokes cigarettes. Then try to stop me!"

At home in San Francisco, folk who have looked in on him at work describe a strange scene. The windows are wide open, the breezes blow reams of paper around the room, the Finns thus far have not been enlightened on what Russia wants from Finland and there was no inkling of the contents.

AMERICA MERELY EXPRESSES INTEREST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today that American representations to Soviet Russia were merely an expression of interest and hope that nothing would be done to disturb peaceful relations in the Baltic or the independence of Finland.

The chief executive told a press conference that the diplomatic action was not to be construed in any way as a pressure move by the American government.

For that reason [illegible] he did not want [illegible] the president [illegible] for the time being [illegible] representation made at Moscow yesterday by Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt.

The note Steinhardt delivered undoubtedly would be acknowledged, he said.

Asked about latest informal peace bids from Berlin, the president said he had nothing to say on that. He added in response to another question that he had received no official word from the German government.

(In Berlin, however, authorized Nazis said any neutral action must come in response to Hitler's Reichstag speech and not as a result of any diplomatic action or request from Germany.)

Mr. Roosevelt's remark that he had nothing to say on German peace talk came after a reporter said Hitler would like to see this country settle "the European hash" and asked whether the president intended to do anything about it.

Outlining the chronology of the Russian matter, the president said that on Monday of this week he began to worry about the situation in the Baltic because it looked as if it might be heading toward an extension of wars.

On Tuesday, he continued, diplomatic representatives of several Scandinavian nations called at the state department and the White House and said they were very much concerned. There was no suggestion, however, of joint action.

On Wednesday, the president drafted a personal message to President Kalinin of the U. S. S. R. and waited until Secretary Hull returned to the city that afternoon, when they edited it.

The message Mr. Roosevelt said expressed the hope that nothing would happen to disturb Baltic peace or Finland's independence.

It was sent to Moscow that afternoon. It was not given to the press at that time, however, because action had not been completed. Not until yesterday was the message actually delivered by Ambassador Steinhardt.

The president said Steinhardt's call at the Kremlin was for no other purpose than to present the message to the Soviet chief of state.

On war problems more close to home, the president said that the government had received unverified rumors that Italian tankers had been refueling a foreign submarine in the South Atlantic, but the story had not been given out officially, he emphasized, because it was not in verifiable form.

The chief executive made this comment in response to a question. He said it was a good example of the administration's honest efforts to tell the press everything that can properly be told.

It meant, he added, that he was not giving to the press unverified rumors of all kinds that come in every day.

Stories given out about foreign submarines in the past have been fully verified, he added. Stories not given out, he explained, were of the type brought in by fishermen who say they have just seen a submarine.

the Briton "and his clique" desired war.

The lack of a formal request for American mediation was seen in Washington as among the obstacles to any peace effort.

And even if such a request were received, many persons believed, the United States government would want the advance assent of Great Britain and France.

In Moscow, Soviet Russia charted a second day of conferences with Finland whose cause had evoked friendly action on the part of the United States and the Scandinavian nations.

Three other nations on the Baltic had gone to Moscow on Russia's invitation and had granted the Soviet union widespread concessions. But Finland, her foreign minister said, "cannot submit or comply with the dictates of an outside factor which would result in her international and political activity being dependent on something other than her own free will."

Scandinavian countries heard that Russia wanted some small Finnish islands, a military assistance pact, stronger economic and political ties and expulsion of Germans.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's reply to Hitler drew praise and criticism in Britain.

The council of action for peace and reconstruction, whose head is David Lloyd George, Britain's prime minister in the World war, called for "a fuller and more precise statement" of the government's aims and for an expression of willingness to negotiate a peace.

The British press [illegible] approved Chamberlain's stand.

On the western front the French general staff reported "a calm night." The German high command [illegible] reported little activity [illegible] said the French had blown up bridges over the Rhine leading from the Alsace-Lorraine sector to southern Germany.

The French communique said small enemy patrols were repulsed in the Warndt forest region.

Thirty thousand British soldiers were reported massed on the northwestern front. Military observers said [illegible] interpreted this as a sign of either an early Allied offensive or an attempt to trap the Nazis into an attack on a large scale.

Fascist Italy, axis ally of Germany, continued her policy of watchful waiting. Fascists held that Chamberlain had contributed nothing to the progress of peace efforts.

PROPOSAL HINDERED BY TWO OBSTACLES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's indirect suggestion that President Roosevelt advise Great Britain to meet Germany in conference encountered today two immediate obstacles:

One was that no formal request has been made for American mediation or intervention in the European war.

The other was a feeling in many quarters that the United States government would want the advance assent of Great Britain and France to any such proposal, even if Germany should ask the president directly to try to bring the opposing sides together.

Previous suggestions of a similar nature have been made by the controlled press in Germany. When Mr. Roosevelt was questioned about them Tuesday, he replied that he had received no request from abroad.

Hitler's views were given to foreign correspondents in Berlin early today by Dr. Otto Dietrich, press chief. The correspondents were told that Germany would unleash a "war in earnest" against Great Britain and France unless there was an indication that Mr. Roosevelt would tell Prime Minister Chamberlain he must express a willingness to meet Germany in conference.

Authoritative sources in the capital pointed out that the United States always has taken the position that it was ready and willing to help Europe reach a general understanding on economic and disarmament questions, but that it had no intention of being drawn into European political disputes.

Mr. Roosevelt's peace appeals to Hitler prior to the beginning of war in Europe followed that line of thought.

Senators have differed on the wisdom of Mr. Roosevelt's acting as mediator, but a strong sentiment against actual American involvement in the European conflict has been voiced repeatedly by both sides in the senate's embargo fight.

Senator Johnson, Democrat, Colorado, recently proposed that Mr. Roosevelt join other neutrals in seeking an armistice, and suggested that the senate recess its neutrality debate in the hope of such a development. Johnson's proposal for a senate recess, however, has not been acted upon. Day-to-day changes in the European picture have caused him to defer seeking a vote.

Chairman Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, of the senate foreign relations committee, while voicing the opinion that he did not think Mr. Roosevelt would hesitate to make "any appropriate suggestions" for peace, asserted last week that it would be "too much responsibility" for him to accept the formal role of mediator or arbitrator.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, an opponent of the administration neutrality bill, said at the same time that he believed "99 per cent of our people" would support Mr. Roosevelt in taking the initiative in seeking an armistice.

SPEECH DESCRIBED AS 'QUITE INADEQUATE'

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The council of action for peace and reconstruction headed by David Lloyd George, Britain's World war prime minister, today characterized Prime Minister Chamberlain's rebuff of Nazi peace overtures as "quite inadequate."

Action by the council, an organization of dissident liberals, came on the heels of widespread newspaper and private comment praising the firm stand against Adolf Hitler taken by Chamberlain in his house of commons speech yesterday.

Informed Britons said they believed the speech had finally convinced Germany that France and Britain were determined to fight to the bitter end. But the council of action asked the government "to state its willingness" to negotiate a peace.

After a private meeting which was originally scheduled to be open to reporters the council announced:

"The council of action, while welcoming the fact that the prime minister's statement does not finally close the door for peace negotiations, regards the statement as quite inadequate, alike as a statement of Britain's war aims and failing to contain any reference to the far reaching consequences of the intervention of the U. S. S. R. (Soviet Russia).

"While agreeing to the full that no peace which recognizes and acquiesces in the results of aggression and no peace which does not give real security to the world can meet the needs of the situation, it nevertheless calls upon the government to propose for the consideration of the house of commons and the country a fuller and more precise statement of the aims it desires to achieve and to state its willingness to submit these aims to a conference of belligerents and neutrals for the purpose of negotiating and enduring peace."

itics-riddled district attorney wants it or not."

He told the leaders of "boss-ism from Baton Rouge" that "you're hanging out on a limb, hooked on to a one-suspender-button leader."

"Look out that that button doesn't give way any day now and snap back in your faces," Jones warned.

Citing the young peoples' leadership in "this revolt in the desert," when he referred to the peoples' league march on the criminal courts building to demand the removal of the district attorney, Jones declared:

"It looks like the 'second carpetbaggers' are chained to the mast at the courts building, and they can't even run away this time. One more effort to crush democracy has been checked. It has been crushed to death itself under the feet of a free people on the march."

Another radio speaker, State Senator James A. Noe, likewise an anti-administration candidate for governor, declared that information he placed before Attorney General Frank J. Murphy started the federal investigation into the Louisiana political corruption and scandals.

"I conducted a thorough investigation in Louisiana of the forms of graft and corruption which involved federal agencies," Noe said in his address.

"I went to Washington, placed affidavits dealing with these violations on the desk of Frank Murphy, United States attorney general.

"This revelation startled the entire nation, but it more than startled the entrenched politicians in Louisiana who are even now 'paying the piper' for having stolen the taxpayers' money, for having duped the federal agencies, for having diverted relief money to their own pockets.

"And let me say to you that these investigations have just begun. Before this is over the crooks and politicians will be cleaned out and Louisiana will have an honest, honorable government."

Noe predicted an "honest election" in 1940 but charged that the "Maestri-Earl Long-Dick Leche machine has been at work multiplying election machinery."

"I have had to cancel all of my speaking engagements this week to stay here in New Orleans and see that these political racketeers do not arrange to steal this election," he said.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ISSUES STATEMENT

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Attorney General David M. Ellison said today that he had directed James J. O'Connor, first assistant attorney general, to take charge of the office of District Attorney Charles A. Byrne of Orleans parish.

The attorney general said he was taking the action because the efficiency of the district attorney's office is being impaired by the necessity of the district attorney defending himself against various charges which have been brought against him.

Ellison issued the following statement:

"Obviously the district attorney for the parish of Orleans is not able to function with normal efficiency because of the necessity of defending himself against charges which have been brought against him, which will require a considerable part of his time and will interfere with the discharge of his public duties.

"Until the disturbances in the parish of Orleans office of the district attorney are settled the attorney general will be in charge of the office.

"Accordingly I have requested Honorable James O'Connor, first assistant attorney general of Louisiana to take charge of the office effective immediately."

to iron out with the German and International Red Cross.

"Lots of supplies" already are at sea, Davis said; others are awaiting transport in New York and some supplies were purchased in Europe.

The Red Cross yesterday ordered 30,000 suits of underwear and 5,000 blankets for Poland and Lithuania, he said. American Red Cross expenditures thus far approach $400,000, Davis noted.

Outlays include $25,000 to aid victims of the torpedoed liner Athenia and to repatriate Americans stranded in Europe, $25,000 to evacuate patients in the American hospital in Paris, $25,000 for the Red Cross of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania and $25,000 for the Polish Red Cross. In addition, the American delegation at Geneva has been authorized to spend $25,000 additional for medicines to be used in Poland.

RAYVILLE MAN IN SENATE RACE

W. D. Cotton Announces His Candidacy For 32nd District Post

RAYVILLE, La., Oct. 12.—(Special) W. Davis Cotton, prominent Rayville ttorney and civic leader, Thursday mally announced his candidacy for te senator for the 32nd senatorial strict, comprising the parishes of chland, Franklin and Catahoula.

Mr. Cotton is a native of Catahoula rish and spent his early life there. s family later removed to Franklin rish and he was graduated from Gil-rt High school in 1922. He entered e Louisiana State university the same year and graduated from the university law school with the degree of L.L.B. in 1927. After graduation he was employed two years in the tax department of the state land office, resigning in 1929 to take up the active practice of law in Rayville.

Mr. Cotton was recently named district governor of the Louisiana-Mississippi-West Tennessee district of Kiwanis International, at the convention held in Monroe. He is a Mason and has twice served the Seventh Masonic district of Louisiana, comprising the parishes of Richland, East Carroll, West Carroll, Madison and Morehouse, as district deputy grand master. In all civic work in his community he has displayed an active interest and has been honored with many positions of trust and leadership in his own community, including that of chairman of the Richland parish chapter of the American Red Cross, in which capacity he has served several years.

While he will formally announce his platform later, Mr. Cotton said that he will devote all of his energy toward the restoration of clean government in the state of Louisiana and will support all constructive measures aimed at the elimination of the existing evils, including dual office-holding and "deadheads" on the state payroll.

He further said that he expects to make the race as an independent candidate and will serve no special interest, clique or group other than the best interests of the citizens of his district and of the state of Louisiana. Mr. Cotton feels that his training, experience and his intimate contact with the people of the three parishes comprising this district, amply qualify him to serve them in the state senate and that he will seek the support of all citizens who earnestly desire an honest, efficient and constructive administration of its public affairs.

PLUCKY YOUNGSTER THINKS HE'S LUCKY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A plucky youngster with the dread "golden bug" infection coursing through his veins counts himself lucky on this Friday the 13th—even if he is 13 today and encased in a rigid cast from hips to toes.

Tousle-haired Jimmy Duffy, Jr., son of a Chester, Pa., shipyard worker, has had 40 transfusions and a major operation since he was stricken five months ago with staphylococcus aureus, rare blood infection known as the "golden bug" of disease.

Physicians at the University of Pennsylvania hospital say the boy will recover. But he must remain in a cast for at least six more weeks, then learn to walk all over again.

Lucky? Sure, says Jimmy—lucky to be alive, for one thing. But there are other reasons.

"I'm glad I can lie on my stomach now with this new cast. I've been on my back a long time. And I'll be glad, too, if they take me back to Taylor Memorial hospital (Ridley Park, Pa.) where I can see the kids from the neighborhood oftener.

"And at Taylor they used to wheel my bed out on the lawn on nice days and I could watch the squirrels."

SPEAKER URGES PEACE FOR U. S.

Rev. Donohoe Says America Should Not Fight In World War

"We owe Russia and Germany nothing, we owe England and France nothing—but we do owe America everything," declared the Rev. Francis P. Donohoe, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's, yesterday in a Columbus day address delivered at the luncheon in Hotel Frances.

"Unfortunately," the priest pointed out, "there are men and groups in our country today, striving to the utmost to inject our nation into foreign conflicts. Unfortunately, too, most Americans cannot understand the mentality of the people of Europe. Here we have one vast and beautiful country, where one can travel for thousands of miles and no questions asked. But Europe, with an area just one-sixth larger than the United States has, not one, but thirty-five different peoples with different languages. Their whole history has been one of hate. They jump out of the cradle hating each other and as soon as they get a generation raised, they go to war. That has been their whole history—1870, 1914 and now it's time again. I admit, it is a form of fatalism, but it is a sober truth. The boundaries have been changed so often that each group can lay claim to territory with equal right—and there might is the only right.

"Some twenty years ago," Father Donohoe continued, "we were deceived by the magic of the word 'democracy.' We spent untold wealth and human blood in a wild orgy only to discover that we had but helped to entrench England and France and suppress the German people. As a result of the war England secured one million square miles of German colonial territory and we got a gas bag, an old zeppelin that later burst into flames. We have the grim reminder of our folly ever with us—institutions full of wrecked and disillusioned human lives, homes saddened by bitter heartaches and human misery.

"Our strict neutrality is the most powerful influence for peace at home and abroad. The other war brought Nazism and Communism in its wake [illegible] and if we wade in again to drive out devils then 'the last state of that man,' as the Scripture says, 'will be worse than the first.' Communism and anti-Christ alone will profit.

"God who is the father of Germans and Russians as well as of Frenchmen and Englishmen, will hold us accountable for the use we make of our enormous national power. That same God who knows that if Russia is atheistic she was introduced to atheism by the godless philosophies that originated in France, that if Germany is desperate she was made so largely by the callous and selfish refusals of England and France to give her a measure of justice."

Recalling the World war activities of the Knights Father Donohoe called upon the Knights of Columbus "to throw the strength of our great order into a campaign to develop a mighty and determined public opinion to keep our peace, by exploding every type of war propaganda, from either side designed to draw our nation into the conflict which is, as our president says, not our war and not of our making."

More than sixty Knights and other Catholic laymen attended the luncheon. The following priests also attended: Rev. N. F. Vandegaer, pastor of the local Catholic church, Father D. Curran, S. J., who is conducting a mission at St. Matthew's, Rev. John C. Marsh of Hodge, Rev. John Vandegaer of Tallulah and the Rev. Francis Couvillon, chaplain of St. Francis sanitarium.

Music was furnished by the thirty-piece band of St. Matthew's, under the direction of F. G. Butcher.

RABBIT FOOT TRAPS 2 ROBBER SUSPECTS

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A lucky rabbit's foot owned by James E. Cole, proprietor of an ice cream store opposite a police station, proved a kickback to two robber suspects.

Cole had locked his store and was chatting in the station when a patrolman led in two youths and announced: "They just knocked off an ice cream store."

One of the youths wore a charm on a chain. Cole looked closer.

"That's my rabbit's foot," he exclaimed. Then it dawned. "And that was my store they robbed."

The youths were charged with breaking and entering.

ANNIE POHL NAMED PRESIDENT OF CLUB

The Commercial club of Ouachita Parish High school, which is made up of seniors and juniors, with Miss Clara Wood, faculty sponsor, has elected officers for 1939-40. Officers elected are: President, Annie Marjorie Pohl; vice-president, Evelyn Ratchford; secretary-treasurer, Kathryn Moak; reporter, Claris Rae Brock.

LIVESTOCK SHOW BEING PLANNED

Will Be Held In Bastrop With Home Demonstration Exhibits

BASTROP, La., Oct. 13—(Special)—A parish-wide livestock show and women's achievement day will be held on the grounds of the Fellowship Riding club in Bastrop on Saturday, October 14. Buildings, pens and stalls have been erected and it is anticipated that this will be one of the largest livestock shows in north Louisiana.

The Fellowship Riding club of Bastrop is sponsoring a horse show and there will be a parade of all saddle horses at 12 o'clock. The horse show will begin at 1 o'clock.

County Agent T. H. Milliken will have charge of all livestock in the following classes: Work stock, dairy cattle, beef cattle and swine. C. L. Hill of the animal husbandry department, Louisiana State university, and J. J. Joyce, county agent of West Carroll parish, will act as judges.

4-H club boys' exhibits will be under the direction of Max McDonald, assistant county agent. All winners of 4-H club pigs will exhibit them on Saturday and the 4-H baby beef calves will be shown.

The Morehouse Parish Home Demonstration club women's achievement day will be under the supervision of Miss Aline Hamiter, home demonstration agent, and the women will exhibit textiles and canned products. Features of the achievement day will be a canning and garden-record contest and booths exhibited by each of the home demonstration clubs in the parish. Judges of the women's and 4-H club girls' division will be Miss Estelle Fournet, food preservation specialist, Louisiana State university; Mrs. Lottie White, former home demonstration agent of Morehouse parish, and Miss Elma Carter, home economics teacher at Mer Rouge High school.

The Farm Security administration of the parish, under the direction of Mrs. Viola G. Jones, home management supervisor, and James H. Sistrunk, farm supervisor, will present exhibits in food preservation, needlework and farm products. These will be judged by Miss Rupert Perry, home management supervisor at Tallulah, and Mrs. Ruth Hankin, home management supervisor at Oak Grove. E. C. McInnis, state director of the Farm Security administration, will be a visitor at this achievement day.

PUBLIC FORUM

OUR AIRPORT

To the Editor.

I am asking for space to reply to the letter of Mr. N. G. Gaston in today's paper.

I plead a vast amount of ignorance in connection with the Selman airport, and suggest that the management of this concern would render a public service by giving such information as suggested below, which I am sure would be appreciated by a vast number in this area who are known as taxpayers, but can claim little else to distinguish themselves as patriotic citizens.

At what amount is the Selman airport capitalized?

Who are the stockholders?

What is the amount invested (a) in land, (b) in improvements?

What has the general public invested through land grants, or other?

How have these grants been set up on the books of this corporation?

In case this investment is merely a donation, what is a conservative estimate, in money value, of the benefits accruing to the public?

Have dividends been paid, total amount, rate per share?

What annual tax is levied and paid?

How many years taxes will amount to, or cover the donation?

In case the donation to the airport is such a good investment, why did our leaders fail to donate to the telephone company, the paper mill, the cottonseed oil mill, the ice plants, the newspapers, the bus stations and sundry other industries?

I am one to thank our police jury for the caution and consideration for the public welfare they have shown.

We have a satisfactory airmail service. Our additional postage rates pay for that.

The passenger service is important and adequate for years to come—is my belief. The present size of planes have sufficient seating capacity. If not, it would be a simple matter to put on more of the same size should the traffic demand more of this service.

If the present type plane has paid expenses in the past there is more reason that their earnings will be more in the future.

Monroe is not the large city as is Shreveport, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, New Orleans, Memphis, Atlanta, New York or Chicago.

In case the airport will pay dividends in the future let private capital take the risk and invest.

'SERVICE TRAINING' FOR TEACHERS ASKED

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13—(AP)—Nationally prominent educators heard today a demand from United States Education Commissioner John W. Studebaker for a really fundamental attack upon teacher education problems from which schools are "obviously suffering."

Addressing the 75th convocation of the board of regents of the University of the State of New York commemorating the 100th anniversary of the opening of the first state normal school in Lexington, Mass., Studebaker called for "in-service training" to help teachers "keep their minds alert and growing."

"Teachers must not be just older adolescents working at school-keeping for a year or two while waiting to marry or to take up some other work," he maintained.

Studebaker complained that growing complexity of the teacher's work requires him not only to be "a person of virtue himself but learned in all the fields of modern problems."

As a solution, he proposed summer schools "more specifically planned" to meet teachers' needs and development of facilities through which teachers may get "authentic materials" bearing upon their classroom requirements.

WIFE FINDS HER SPOUSE HANGED

Oak Grove Man Ties Hands, Suspends Body From Tree

OAK GROVE, La., Oct. 13—(Special)—With a rope around his neck and his hands tied behind his back, the body of B. L. Dyche, 34-year-old farmer, was found suspended from a tree near his home seven miles northeast of Oak Grove Thursday afternoon. Dr. T. M. Pulley West Carroll parish coroner, and Sheriff W. S. Bassett pronounced the death a suicide despite the bazarre circumstances surrounding it.

Dr. Pulley said investigation showed Dyche had become ill Wednesday afternoon and was not feeling well Thursday morning. However, he went with other members of the family to the field in the morning to pick cotton. At noon the family returned home for dinner, but Dyche decided not to pick cotton during the afternoon.

About 1 o'clock Mrs. Dyche decided to return to the house to see how her husband was faring. She found the house empty except for a small child that had been left there. In a matchbox she discovered a note written by Dyche saying: "You will find note in my coat pocket." A search, however, failed to reveal the note.

Starting back to the field, Mrs. Dyche saw a note stuck to a fence where a gap had been cut. As she began reading it she looked down through the woods and saw her husband's body dangling from a tree. Her screams quickly attracted neighbors who rushed to the scene and cut down the body, which was still warm. When Dr. Pulley arrived soon afterward he found life extinct.

Dr. Pulley said the rope was tied to a limb about 15 feet above the ground. Dyche had apparently ascended the tree by scaling a leaning snag and then tied his own hands behind him. One hand was securely bound, it was stated, while the other was tied only loosely to the other. Dyche then evidently slid down the snag to a point where his toes barely touched the ground, but left enough space for the weight of the body to cause strangulation. Dr. Pulley said the man's neck was not broken.

The note which Mrs. Dyche found on the fence read as follows: "Some men come to take me. They say I shall never see you again. They say you can live here as long as you wish without being harmed. Raise my children in the church. They say that I have robbed and stealed for a living all my life. Honest, before God, Ethel, I have never stole since we have been married. May God be with you all as I know they will never let me see you to tell you this."

The note was unsigned.

Dr. Pulley said investigators were of the opinion that Dyche wrote the note in an effort to cover up the fact that he had committed suicide. The young farmer had no enemies in this section and was apparently doing well on his little farm, his neighbors said. They were not able to account for his action.

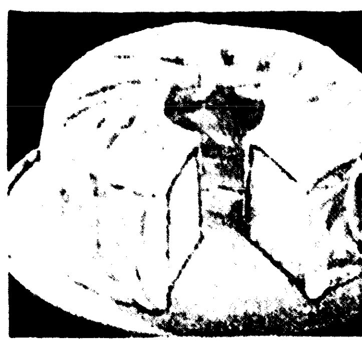
TRY THIS DANDY RECIPE THAT MAKES 3 DIFFERENT CAKES
SAYS AUNT JENNY

3 EXTRA ADVANTAGES —AND ONLY SPRY GIVES ALL THREE

"MAKE one of these cakes today, folks," says Aunt Jenny. "They're wonderful, all three, light, velvety, delicate-tastin'! An' mixed in no time. Spry creams faster.

"That's not all. It stays fresh longer, too. No 'off-flavor' in tender, flaky Spry crust. Every crumb of it is pure goodness.

"You'll love the crispy, digestible fried foods Spry gives, too. An' no unpleasant 'fryin' odor.' Spry is purer. Remember, it's the only shortenin' that gives you all three of these advantages. Get Spry today. Notice its handy new hinge-top can."



CAKES

AUTUMN WOODLAND CAKE

1 cup Spry
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sugar
4 eggs, unbeaten
2 teaspoons baking powder
3 cups sifted cake flour
1 cup milk

Blend Spry, salt and vanilla. Add sugar gradually and cream well. (So quick and easy with triple-creamed Spry!) Add eggs singly, beating well after each addition.

Sift baking powder with flour 3 times. Add flour to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, mixing after each addition until smooth. Bake in three Spry-greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 30 to 35 minutes. (See how wonderfully tender and delicate—make all your cakes with Spry!)

Spread Date Nut Filling between layers and Orange Date Frosting on top and sides.

Nut Cup Cakes. To ½ recipe add ½ cup nuts. Bake in Spry-greased cup-cake pans in hot oven (400° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Frost with chocolate frosting. Makes 12.

Surprise Loaf. Bake ½ recipe in Spry-greased 8-inch tube pan in slow oven (325° F.) 1½ hours. Frost with Surprise Frosting.

(All measurements in these recipes are level)

ORANGE DATE FROSTING

2 tablespoons Spry
1 tablespoon butter
3 tablespoons orange juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated orange rind
3 dates, cut in thin strips

Melt Spry and butter in combined fruit juices over hot water. Pour juices over sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Add rind. Beat until thick enough to spread. Tint with yellow coloring. Spread frosting on top and sides of cake. Arrange dates (use raisins if preferred) on top to resemble flowers.

Surprise Frosting. Substitute ¼ cup top milk for fruit juices and 1 teaspoon vanilla for orange rind. Spread ½ cup peanut butter on top and sides of Surprise Loaf and cover with frosting.

DATE NUT FILLING

1½ cups dates, prunes or apricots, cut
¼ cup sugar
⅓ cup water
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup nuts, cut

Cook dates, sugar and water over direct heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and add butter, lemon juice and nuts. Cool.

PIGSKIN FOES SEEK REVENGE ON SOUTHEAST

Invading Teams To Shoot At Circuit's Intersectional Average

By Kenneth Gregory

ATLANTA, Oct. 13 (AP)—Florida's underrated footballers unexpectedly boosted the Southeastern conference's already fat intersectional average Thursday while higher ranked loop members prepared to repel revenge-seeking foes.

Josh Cody's Green Gators evened their intersectional count for the season by upsetting Boston College 7-0 in a Columbus day game at Boston. This net [illegible] made up for a 0-12 loss to Texas this season [illegible] also was sweet revenge for a 3[illegible] lacing the Eagles dished out last year.

Before-the-campaign predictions listed Fordham's Rams as the No. 1 eastern power, Holy Cross Crusaders as a potential [illegible] national [illegible] Rice's Owls as a championship contender.

BENGALS MAP OUT DEFENSE FOR OWLS

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 13—(AP)—The stream-lined Louisiana State football team unlimbered its aerial attack and mapped defense plans for Rice Thursday night in a practice drill under lights.

From figures submitted by scouts here, L. S. U. believes itself a "David" about to tackle a "Goliath" Saturday night and Coach Bernie Moore, taking heed, is preparing for devastating power plays.

The scouts reported Rice's starting team would outweigh L. S. U.'s by 11 pounds a man, the Owls averaging 199 pounds to 188 for the Bengals.

A great part of the weight difference will be accounted for by the opposing backfield stars, Rice's Ernie Lain tipping the scales at 220 and Leo Bird, L. S. U.'s diminutive bombarder, only weighing 164.

Passes tossed by Lain and Bird, however, are expected to provide the game's scoring fireworks so the apparent difference in brawn may not prove a decisive factor.

L. S. U. was prepared to take its final [illegible] drill Friday afternoon [illegible] Rice [illegible] during the day may have [illegible] for a workout Friday night.

RAMS EAGER TO SQUARE ACCOUNTS WITH DIXIE

ATLANTA, Oct. 13 (AP)—Thirty-five [illegible] square accounts [illegible] Dixie, Fordham's football Rams stopped over here Thursday en route to New Orleans and a tilt with Tulane.

While the New Yorkers limbered up on Georgia Tech's Grant field, Coach Jim Crowley said he felt his lads had a fighting chance to make amends for last Saturday's 6-7 loss to Alabama.

He discounted the possible effect of the heat and said:

"If we can hold off Tulane for the first five or six minutes and get our feet on the ground we might be able to get going."

The erstwhile Notre Dame "Horseman" reported key backs Principe and DePhilippo in much better shape than they were against Alabama.

BIG TEN, IVY LEAGUE TITLE ASPIRANTS MEET

Southern Teams Again Tangle With 'Foreign' Foes Tomorrow

By Bill Boni

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—(AP)—While the members of the Southeastern and Southwest conferences again will be concentrating on intersectional warfare, in which they won such standout honors a week ago, the emphasis will be on intra-conference games Saturday in the Eastern Ivy league, the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast conference.

The Big Ten and the Ivy league rarely have presented such promising programs on the same day.

In the midwest, as counter-attractions to Notre Dame's clash with Southern Methodist, the Western conference offers these games between Michigan and Illinois, Northwestern and Ohio State, Indiana and Wisconsin and Minnesota and Purdue.

NEVILLE PLOWS UNDER FARMERS BY 33-6 SCORE

vaders in style and with more help from teammates might have fared better.

A pass, Miller to Rivers, gave the Bengals their first touchdown early in the first quarter. Rivers, on the first play of the game after the kickoff, carried the oval 44 yards to Farmerville's 21. Neville lost the ball on downs on the Farmerville four, but soon got the ball once more and drives through the line and around end by Miller and Haddad took the ball to the Farmers six. Miller then passed to Rivers for the first score. Another pass, Miller to Luffey, added the point.

A few minutes later Neville scored again. Farmerville, after taking the kickoff, was soon forced to punt and Roan's kick went out of bounds on the Tiger 42. Rivers then circled left end for 23 yards, putting the oval on Farmerville's 19. Miller skrited right end to score. A pass, Miller to Rivers, was good for the conversion.

The farmers initiated the second quarter with their lone touchdown on the third play of the period. In possession of the ball on Neville's 21 at the beginning of the quarter, Matthew Taylor and Pete Traylor worked the oval to the Bengal 15. Taylor then passed to Rhodes for the touchdown. A pass for the point was incomplete.

Within three minutes after the Farmers score, Neville got loose for the Bengals' third touchdown. Meredith took Wade's kickoff on his own 20, slipped the oval to Rivers, and the flash Neville veteran raced the ball back to the Farmers' 31. Miller got eleven yards around end, and got 15 more the same way to put the ball on Farmerville's five. Miller got four more at right tackle, and Haddad went over on the next play through the line. A pass for the point fell incomplete.

Taking possession of the ball a few minutes later on the Farmers' 42, Neville soon scored again. Runs by Miller and Rivers worked the ball to the invaders' 12, and Rivers slashed through left tackle for his second touchdown and the fourth for the Tigers. Miller plugged through the line to add the extra point.

After scoring once more early in the second half, the Neville regulars retired, letting the reserves play almost all the remainder of the battle. The final tally came soon after Miller had intercepted one of J. C. Albritton's passes on Neville's 40 and was dragged down in midfield. Rivers hit the line twice for a first on the Farmerville 39. Luffey picked up 13 more through tackle and then Miller circled left end for the remaining 26 yards and the final touchdown. Try for the point failed.

The victory leaves Neville yet unbeaten in Class A and with another conference game coming up here next week with Winnsboro's Wildcats.

COLUMBUS DAY IS OBSERVED BY CLUB

Members of the West Monroe Kiwanis club, at their weekly luncheon held Thursday noon, heard a talk by Rev. R. T. Watson, pastor of the Monroe First Christian church, suited to Columbus day which was observed by the club.

The speaker said that Columbus was a dreamer but he also was a man who possessed action, a combination that not often happens together. For seven long years he endeavored to make the exploration which ultimately made for him undying fame.

Rev. Watson said that it is quite probable that this continent was not first discovered by Columbus, that this honor most likely belongs to Leif Ericson, but that Columbus did prove to the world that this hemisphere exists and opened the pages of a new history. The speaker extolled the man for his determination which permitted nothing to interfere with the carrying out of his plans.

'GATORS DEFEAT BOSTON COLLEGE

Florida Protects Seven-Point Lead Over Big Northern Team

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The well-drilled Alligators from the University of Florida cashed in on their only scoring chance early, and then turned back five thrusts inside their 15-yard line Thursday to gain a 7-0 victory over the burly but ragged Boston college Eagles before a holiday crowd of 20,000 at Fenway park.

The Eagles, much too awkward to carry out the more complicated assignments of their Notre Dame offense, outrushed the 'Gators eight first downs to two and outgained 248 yards to 104 while being outplayed at every turn by the twice-beaten southerners.

But there was little or no progress made by the Eagles before their rivals slated away the game early in the first period with a 45-yard aerial advance that was climaxed by the completion of a 25-yard scoring pass from Bud Walton to Leo Cahill, one of the five sophomores in Florida's starting lineup. Walton added the seventh point with a place kick.

PREDICTS RECORD CROWD FOR FORDHAM-WAVE TILT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Tulane and Fordham will attract more than 40,000 fans Saturday when the Wave and Rams meet at the Green[illegible] stadium, A. P. Generes, Tulane ticket manager, predicted Thursday. "With a clear day, a new crowd record for an intersectional game in the Southeastern conference may be established," he said.

A crowd of more than 40,000 would beat the record mady by Yale and Georgia at Athens in 1929.

There is room to handle a crowd of 55,000 with stadium additions which by January 1 will provide seats for 70,000.

GOOD-WILLERS WELL RECEIVED

Chamber Of Commerce Group Gets Warm Reception In All Towns

Twenty-nine Monroe business men returned Thursday night from a day-long good will trip through 12 towns of the Monroe trade territory. The trip, made in three buses, was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

The towns [illegible] were visited [illegible] Clarks, Olla, Urania, [illegible] Winnfield, Jonesboro, Hodge, [illegible] Bernice and Farmerville. The trip started at 7:45 a.m. [illegible] at 6:30 p.m.

Jack Boyer, manager of the Monroe Printing company, who represented that firm on the trip, characterized the tour as one of the best so far. He said the party was cordially received at each town by the mayor and a committee of leading citizens. Talks were made at each stop by George Holland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and A. B. Clarkson.

Mr. Boyer said a particularly large group of people greeted the trippers at Farmerville. At Bernice the party witnessed the last quarter of the football game between Bernice High school and Homer High school.

Besides Mr. Boyer and Mr. Holland, those who made the tour included A. B. Clarkson, Vernon Adkins, Benny Rogers, [illegible], J. F. Cox, L. M. [illegible], [illegible], F. R. [illegible], J. C. LOCAL AIR SCHOOL PLAN UP FOR VOTE

The board of supervisors of Louisiana State university will meet Saturday to decide if Northeast Junior college can enter into a contract with the CAA to offer a course in ground instruction and flying. President Paul Hebert of the university informed a local group of citizens who conferred with him urging the local need of this training, that he would advocate that the board give formal approval to the plan.

If the course is given here, as is now almost certain, being a registered student at the college is not necessarily a prerequisite for participation in the training, stated Dean C. C. Colvert. Only 10 applicants are to be provided for and all will be required to pass rigid physical examinations, paying $40 as fee for the course. The instruction will be for 18 weeks.

If the board gives approval, ground training will be started at once at Selman field.

for Discomforts from COLDS
use MENTHOLATUM

Link them together in your mind!

WHEN colds cause sniffling, sneezing, soreness, and stuffiness in the nostrils, use Mentholatum. It gives quick relief from these discomforts and promotes healing of the irritated membranes in the nostrils. Its vapors also reach deep into the air passages, bringing grateful comfort.

Also rub some Mentholatum on your chest and back to improve the local blood circulation. Rub it on your forehead and temples to allay headache and neuralgia due to colds.
